BIO

Cathy Engberg is an oil painter who is currently working out of her home studio in Peoria, IL. Her subject matter is often figures at rest or play. While balancing realism with abstraction, she enjoys painting figures with strong light and shadow patterns. Cathy's process is a push and pull, with many layers of paint. Always knowing that a bit of destruction might just be what the piece needs next. Though mostly self taught, Cathy has taken workshops with Karin Jurick, Mark Daniel Nelson, Melinda Coostana, and Peggi Kroll Roberts.
